

EMPOWERING WOMEN, EMPOWERING HUMANITY

Oh! my dear, don't get fear
I'm here and will be there for years
As part & parcel of your life here
Showering love for your near and dear.

Hey you chauvinistic men
Don't undermine the power of women.
Give us our dues in every walk of life
For country to progress with no prejudice and vice.

No more eve-teasing, no more rape
Why live in frustration, give us some rays of hope.
Like you also we can swim and fly
Can conquer the Mt. Everest and sky is no high.

I'm a daughter, sister and mother
Then why should I always suffer?
Why differentiate between he and she?
It's an insult to the Creator, not only to me

I'm no longer a suppressed voice
Unable to tell you and others my choice
That I've every right to be here
With same right to be alive and to be secure

I'm not here by default to impress men
To please the animal instinct of you, insane
And who taught you that I only exist
I am the symbol of love and sacrifice for the world to exist.

I've every thing to lose, so why not fight
Am always there to stand by you to smash this inequality
So, come on all women of our society
B'cause with equality country's future is bright & bright.

Abhisika Satpathy
14CS01011